About the Journal

The Journal of Alternative Investments (JAI) offers detailed analysis and expert insight on the evolving field of alternative investments. The JAI strives to provide its readers with practical tools such that they can (a) benefit from the growth of alternatives investment products, (b) determine the optimal mix of traditional and alternative investments, (c) manage their alternative investment portfolios with proven risk management practices, and (d) use the latest techniques to perform financial and operational due diligence on managers of private funds.

The Journal of Alternative Investments is the official publication of the Chartered Alternative Investment Analyst Association (CAIA®).

About the Association

Founded in 2002, the Chartered Alternative Investment Analyst Association (CAIA®) is the global authority in alternative investment education. The CAIA is best known for the CAIA Charter®, an internationally recognized finance credential and the gateway to a network of more than 8,700 alternative investment leaders in almost 90 countries. For more information see CAIA's website

Mission

To increase the interaction between the academic, practitioner, and investor communities. JAI is devoted to the understanding and analysis of these markets including regulatory, administration/management, and investment performance issues.
